COSMIC RAY FLUCTUATIONS IN THE LARGE-SCALE MAGNETIC FIELD

M.E. Katz
TAU

Based upon the drift kinetic equitation, we consider a theory of cosmic ray (CR) fluctuations in the large-scale random magnetic field, against the background of which there exist small-scale magnetic field inhomogeneities. We obtain the equation for CR correlation function and relations between CR correlation vector and a helicity of the magnetic field.